CELEBRATING 150 YEARS OF WILLARD, OHIO

Celebrate with us!

THIS IS OUR TOWN

Since 1874 we have been known as Chicago, Chicago Junction, and now Willard, Ohio. No matter the name, we will always call it home: the place where children's dreams are forged, relationships molded, opportunities presented, and life validated. For some, their journey has taken them away. For others, Willard has always been near, but for all of us, it will always be home!

In 2024, we are celebrating the past 150 years in a sesquicentennial homecoming that has never been seen before. Although we will commemorate the sesquicentennial throughout the year, the culminating celebration will happen between August 4 and 10. During this time, downtown will host numerous events: a sesquicentennial parade, car show, concerts including national acts, festival ground entertainment, return of the Hoopfest, events from the past, FIREWORKS and much more!

HELP US CELEBRATE TOGETHER!

Celebrating the sesquicentennial is an opportunity that only happens once in a lifetime. Therefore, we ask you to reflect on how good Willard has been to you and your company and help us throw a celebration that will be talked about for the next 150 years. The events are being finalized as we are looking at multiple activities that will appeal to the entire community. Events that require additional funding include hosting a national music artist, ground entertainment, and a fireworks show to brighten the skyline of Willard, that has never been seen before.

Consider promoting your business during this once-in-a-lifetime celebration.
